

Nick Van Loo | Financial Advisor, Raymond James

Nick is a financial advisor for Raymond James and has a passion for the financial planning industry and for helping people achieve reassurance with financial planning. Nick brings a rich educational and professional background to Raymond James. He's been a credit analyst, client service coordinator, production manager, and account executive across several industries. Nick holds an MBA from Grand Valley State University and a bachelor's degree in finance from Davenport University, as well as a bachelor's degree in religious studies from Grace Bible College. He is also a multi-year award recipient in ACG Western Michigan's ACG Cup business case competition. Nick is also a Certified Financial Planning™ professional.

Nick credits his strong work ethic to growing up on a farm and working in his family's retail nursery. Today, he lives in Allendale with his wife, Courtney, and is active in his church in Zeeland. In his leisure time, Nick enjoys basketball, football, running, and reading. But his favorite activity is spending time with Courtney and daughters, Vivian Grace and Victoriana Joy, whom they both adore.